W.K. Kellogg Bird Sanctuary

The Sanctuary offers a picnic area, viewing areas, a native pollinator garden and the opportunity to see captive and wild waterfowl, birds of prey and game birds on the shores of Wintergreen Lake.

Trails highlight a variety of habitats and include a paved wheelchair-accessible path.

The Sanctuary is open year round, MSU students and KBS Conference Center users receive free admission during their stay.

To learn more about admission and hours, visit birdsantuary.kbs.msu.edu.

Trails of the W.K. Kellogg Biological Station

Explore KBS! All KBS property is a Research Area. By following the recommendations on this map, we can allow visitors to explore and protect the integrity of research. Please use the table at right for trail-specific restrictions for people, dogs and/or bikes. Areas without trails are closed to the public, except for guided tours or special events. Motorized vehicles, including snowmobiles, are prohibited on KBS properties, but cross-country skis and snowshoes are welcome on trails.

Please help keep our trails safe by leashing dogs (dogs only allowed at locations #8 & #9), cleaning up after pets and letting us know about needed maintenance by emailing info@kbs.msu.edu. Enjoy the trails!
